What is COVID-19?

- Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) is a respiratory illness that can spread from person to person. There are many types of human coronaviruses, including some that commonly cause mild upper respiratory tract illnesses. COVID-19 is a new disease, caused by a novel (or new) coronavirus that has not previously been seen in humans. Current symptoms reported for patients with COVID-19 have included mild to severe respiratory illness with fever, cough, and difficulty breathing. The best way to prevent illness is to avoid being exposed to the virus.

- CDC recommends everyday preventive actions to help prevent the spread of respiratory diseases, including:
  - Wash your hands thoroughly and frequently.
  - Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
  - Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
  - Stay home when you are sick.
  - Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.
  - Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces using a regular household cleaning spray or wipe.

More information about COVID-19 can be found here.

How do I know if I should be tested for COVID-19, and where do I go to be tested?

- Anyone experiencing symptoms is strongly urged to contact their medical provider to seek treatment.
- If an individual has a fever (greater than or equal to 100.0°) and a cough, or shortness of breath, please call your primary care provider for information regarding local testing locations. You will need an order from your primary care physician to be tested for COVID-19. If you do not have a primary care provider, and you have the symptoms of COVID-19 (a fever greater than or equal to 100.0°, and a cough or shortness of breath) please go to an urgent care center or to a federally qualified health center to get a doctor’s order to be tested. Please do not go to any medical facility unannounced for the safety of all patients and medical professionals. Please note that only individuals who present with symptoms consistent with COVID-19, a fever greater than or equal to 100.0°, and a cough, or shortness of breath, will be tested at this time.

Why are members of the community being asked to wear masks now, when they were previously told not to unless they were sick, or at high risk of serious complications?

- Recent studies indicate that a significant portion of COVID 19 positive individuals do not exhibit symptoms (asymptomatic) and those who eventually display symptoms can transmit the virus before they are symptomatic (pre-symptomatic). Wearing a mask will help to reduce the possibility of asymptomatic or pre-symptomatic spread.
- Transmission of this virus is predominantly through droplet spread of saliva through coughing, sneezing and talking and homemade masks can stop these large droplets.
- In addition to using other social distancing measures, there are areas where these measures are difficult to maintain and a face covering can further reduce exposure.

Can I use the Town parks, athletic fields, playgrounds, and trails system during this crisis?

- At this point we are not closing parks or trails but would encourage all people to follow the social distancing guidelines outlined by the CDC. We strongly suggest that activity at Town parks be limited to passive activities that do not require large or small groupings of people.

  - Westwoods Golf Course is open and following the established guidelines by the Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development.
